Privacy policies

We give you the possibility to share content as part of our mission to make the world a more open and connected place. This policy describes the type of information we collect, how it is used and how it is shared. You can find more tools and information in Basic Aspects of Privacy. When you review our policy, please remember that it applies to all Gempil brands, products and services that do not have an independent privacy policy or are subject to this policy, which are known as "Gempil Services" or "Services".
